DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-26 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-15 of U.S. Patent No. 6,636,423. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claims of the patent and claims of the instant application claim two portions of the fin made of two different materials being thermally/mechanically connected to each other; the patent specifies the crimping as the method of connection of two portions and the application claims that connection of the two portions of the fin is done by a butt or a lap joint. The butt and lap joints are well known and common methods of joining two metal pieces using processes such as brazing, spot welding or friction stir welding which are also well known in the industry, therefore it would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to use one of these methods to couple two portions of the fin as claimed in the patent and in the instant application.
